

ADVANCED HEALTH MANAGEMENT PROGRAMME

Ms. Maria van der Merwe

Miss Van der Merwe is the provincial manager of the Integrated Nutrition Programme within the Mpumalanga Department of Health and is a Dietician by profession.

“After attending the AHMP, my horizon widened with regards to health care service delivery. I am now able to appropriately apply available resources within my programme. My management skills have noticeably improved - from drafting operational plans to monitoring and evaluation of the programme. I am able to apply these skills in my daily work.”

“In addition, the important role that NGOs play in health care service delivery, as well as further possibilities to extend partnership between stakeholders with the aim of providing quality service to end users is of a particular interest to me, after the course.”

“FPD offers training and development courses of a high standard. I have recommended the health management courses to many colleagues and am pleased that four of my colleagues are currently enrolled with FPD as students of health management.”
